DEFECATE EVERYWHERE

If you're shitting
your pants

and you're not having fun,

you're not doing it right!

All of "human" "history" "between" "down" to this, a "conflict"

A few visionaries who know that how we eat, sleep, fuck, piss and shit are revolutionary acts

A few paranoid agents of bureaucratic who think how we eat, sleep, fuck, piss and shit are areas to their way of life.

Realize that its producing this communique we have realized our own inner shitness. The process

When you go out to be a shithead in the world, always remember the principles of our movement, even repeat them to yourself.

- (1) Your politics are shit.
- (2) Your scene is shit.
- (3) You are shit.

NO PUBLIC RESTROOM

Walking around the city, looking for a public restroom, sphincter clenched, why does it have to be this way? Isn't life about freedom- why should I ever have to tense any muscle in my body at all? Life should be all about pleasure with no difficult experiences.

Every affront to my liberty is like this- people controlling what I can say, what I do, how I smell- not only making me wear clothes, but dissing me if there are holes in them- it's all about forcing me to control my impulses. Some poseur anarchists say repression is first internalized in school, or in the phallic stage when we distinguish gender. Nonsense! Oppression starts with toilet training!

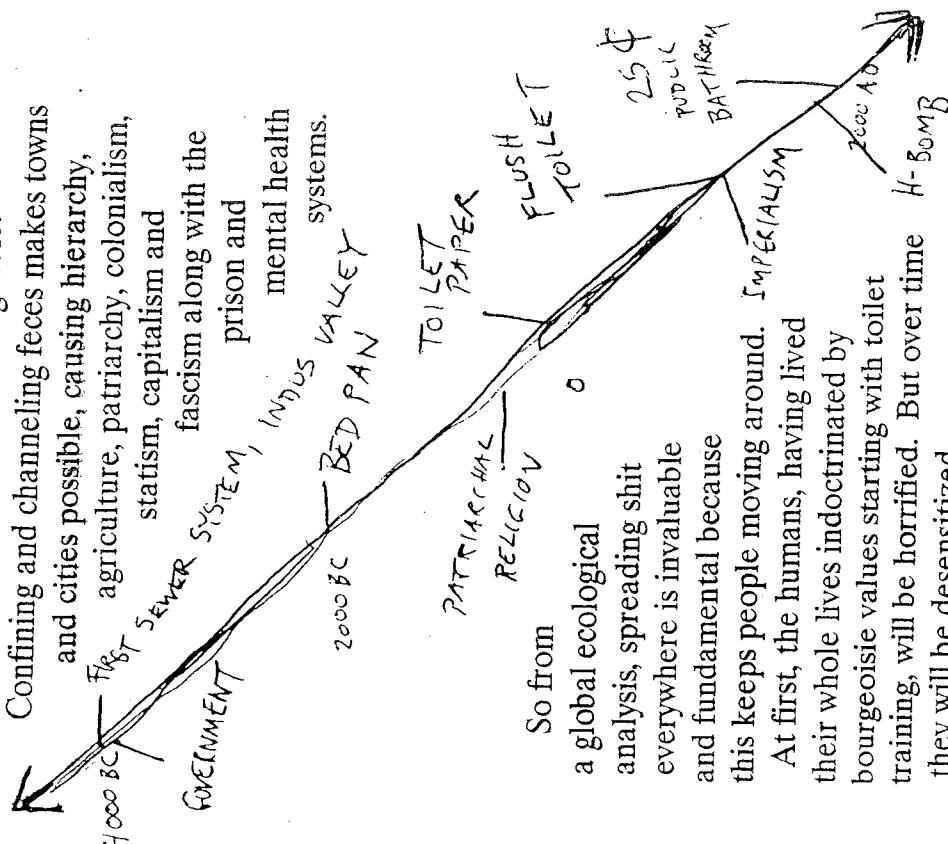

Now I will take a stand, or a squat I should say. No one's looking so I'll pull down my pants and shit right here on the sidewalk. Ahhh! My heart flutters- perhaps some constable might arrest me for being so at home in my body. What an adventure!

Sewer systems and civilizations are one and the same. In nature, humans move away from their own waste, so that population density, and in the long run population itself is manageable.

Confining and channeling feces makes towns and cities possible, causing hierarchy, agriculture, patriarchy, colonialism, statism, capitalism and fascism along with the prison and mental health systems.

So from a global ecological analysis, spreading shit everywhere is invaluable and fundamental because this keeps people moving around. Imperialism At first, the humans, having lived their whole lives indoctrinated by bourgeoisie values starting with toilet training, will be horrified. But over time they will be desensitized.

Don't be side-tracked by liberal poseurs who pretend to support you by saying, "Talking shit is the first step." Say to them, "Hey liberal poseur! Talking shit is the revolution itself!"

SHIT-TALKING

The most powerful propaganda weapon of the fecal revolution we call shit-talking. Being truly committed involves talking shit about everyone and everything. Talk shit about:

- Public transit
- Community college
- Commercial radio
- Things you bought at Wal-Mart
- The selection at the liquor store
- The selection on TV and at the video store

Then we will be reading to achieve a manageable global population through defecation.

How does shit control population?

"The left rebels in favor of racial and religious equality, equality for women and homosexuals, humane treatment of animals and so forth... In this way the system has successfully deflected the rebellious impulses of the left into channels that are harmless to the system."

"The [Green Anarchist] Movement may be not only useless, but worse than useless, because it may be an obstacle to the development of an effective revolutionary movement. It will be necessary to build a new revolutionary movement that will keep itself strictly separate from the GA Movement and its soft, civilized values"

Ted Kaczynski (Da Yoo-Na-Bom-Bur)

Sexism

Because a fecal revolutionary has no impulse control, there is always the risk of offending and imposing on others. But if one balances this by confronting other people on their oppressive behavior, one can break even overall. It is especially important for men to focus on the sexism of other men.

Ageism
The punk and anarchist subcultures are ridiculously biased against young people. They take time to overcome. This will young people of today really focus on this, in 20-25 years middle-aged people will be put in their place.

ANTI-OPPRESSION

Racism

Race is a fictional concept with no biological basis invented by the soap industry to oppress and divide us. When everyone is totally crusty we are all the same dull-gray and no can tell anyone's ethnic background.

The current anarchist movement is non-sense. Even the most strident primitivist varieties are a distraction from true anal liberation. The movement must be shat upon. So don't feel bad if you're afraid to shit in a public street- it's not about being a martyr. Go visit infoshops, music venues and other community spaces, stay at collective houses and squats, and there shit on the floor!

This is where the fight begins, confronting squat Nazis, holier-than-thou activists, and show security. No stage diving? It would be safe if the floor was covered with nice soft shit.

Lately, technology apologists have been trying to make rideable bicycles available to everyone in the community. This will only lead to anarcho-syndicalism and from there to progressive-liberalism. They must be stopped.

We can wear them down, and get around ourselves in the process, by running everyone's bicycles to the ground by riding them carelessly and not fixing them. Not only does this repel the house bike phenomenon, but in some cases we may be able to "borrow" parts from personal bikes.

FARTING

Sometimes getting away with open defecation is not feasible or practical, and this can be disheartening when bad shit is really needed. But with the proper diet and attitude the odor of shit can be spread everywhere.

It's just like taking a crap in everyone's nose! Fart on the bus, the train, the plane. In a meeting, with each greeting. If you STILL have a job or go to school, the opportunity for low-level bio-chem gas strikes is always present.
